Thanks Valois. In the second sentence of the document, there appears to be a link to a "sample EJ analysis outline" but the link is broken. Do you have access to that document?

Yes, I think so, too. It would explain how I came up with the format I used originally. At least I started with this outline as a basis for the first DB EJ analysis and added sections based on review comments.

Thanks Valois. I think this would be useful to include in the e-mail to Suzanne and Darcy. Do you agree?
